

FREE Family Access Monday for those with Disabilities

10:00am—2:00pm

First Monday of each month

The Alexandria Museum of Art is pleased to announce it is opening its doors to the galleries on the first Monday of each month for those with disabilities for private, stress-free viewing of the exhibits, free of charge.

While those with special needs are welcome any business day, this dedicated day offers specialized interactives for hands-on learning, creative inspiration and engagement as well as communication tools. Social stories are available for download from the AMoA website to prepare for your visit.
